DIRECTOR'S NOTE

The Sound of Music was something I grew up watching during the holidays with my dad. He was a sailor and a soldier, so freedom is something he truly valued and taught me to value as well. This story is a wonderful reminder to treasure our freedom. The Sound of Music is a timeless classic because the music is heartwarming and unforgettable, an account of family, love, and the courage to stand up for one's values. The Von Trapps represent so many who had to face a tyrant's dictates, but many didn't have a happily ever after. There were countless people who suffered unspeakable tragedy in Nazi-occupied Austria and Europe. We wanted to briefly touch on that important part of this history, never forgetting the tragedies of this time and yet remembering all who persevered and resisted tyranny.

Directing this group of people has been a true joy for me. You spent countless hours working hard and rolling with all my changes. You have brought life and a unique spin to each character. Thank you for making them your own, and shining onstage! Thank you for all the laughs and fun! To all who helped behind the scenes to bring this show to life, you have my gratitude.

Thank you to Kris for believing in me and to the Theatre Board for taking a chance on this first-timer. Thank you to my family for always supporting me. I love this show! I hope with all my heart you laugh, cry, and get carried away with The Sound of Music.

MARIA

SARAH CONDIE

Sarah loves mastering new skills, with pickleball currently at the top of her list. Sunshine, water, and especially Hawaii make her happiest. The Wilson Theatre is a treasured part of her hometown, full of special memories. She prefers saying goodbye with a hug. Her ideal weekend mixes a solid workout, home or yard projects, and hours playing on the river. Favorite things include Garrett Condie, seasonal hand soaps, thick wrapping paper, and boy bands.

MOTHER ABBESS
